

About Program Student Learning Outcomes

Each program of study at Santa Barbara City College (for example, Accounting) has a set of Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLOs) that list the competencies each student should be able to demonstrate upon successful completion of the program.

The following report contains data on the achievement levels of these learning outcomes by students in the various programs of study. There are three levels of achievement:

- A: Exemplary Performance – The student exceeded the performance level for this competency.
- B: Standard Performance – The student met the performance level for this competency.
- C: Minimum Performance – The student did not meet the performance level for this competency.

The report shows the total number of student and percentages in each category, for each program, over the past several semesters. Note that because the learning outcomes differ between programs, comparing the levels of achievement between programs is not particularly useful or meaningful.

You can also visit individual department web pages for more information on their Program SLOs (for example, see Middle Eastern Studies). Program SLOs are also listed with each program in the College Catalog.
